

Advanon is an early-stage and rapidly growing Fintech Start-Up based in Zurich. We offer an online platform that allows SMEs to sell their open invoices directly to financial investors. By that, we help SMEs to improve their Cash Flow planning and to create new growth opportunities. For the investors, on the other hand, we provide a new, short-term, and high-yielding asset class.

Our team consists of three ambitious entrepreneurs who met while working for Google. We are looking for people that are willing to work in a very exciting environment with lots of opportunities to bring in your own ideas to build up a successful Fintech company.
